Finish your studies with a Bachelor's degree and valuable work experience

Welcome to iba, Germany's largest state-recognised University of Cooperative Education! We offer the ideal combination of theoretical and practical training and thus enable our students to become qualified specialists through comprehensive professional experience.

Good reasons for studying at iba

- › 11 iba study centres with over 2,600 students
- › Dual study undergraduate programmes leading to a Bachelor's degree – accredited and state-recognised
- › Innovative “split-week” model – every week, students spend 20 hours in class and receive 20 hours of practical training at a company
- › 40 highly qualified professors as well as further highly skilled academic staff
- › Over 500 part-time lecturers with work experience in their field of expertise
- › More than 1,800 cooperating companies nationwide
- › Individual assistance during the application process and throughout the whole time of studies
- › High chance of staying with partner company at the end of studies
- › Being part of a family-run education institution with more than 30 years of experience in the education sector

IBA'S INNOVATIVE DUAL STUDY CONCEPT: THE “SPLIT-WEEK” MODEL

With the “split-week” model, the iba offers an innovative concept that is very popular with both students and cooperating companies. Each week, students spend 20 hours in class and work 20 hours at the company (the study programmes ‘Physiotherapy’ and ‘Applied Therapeutic Sciences – Occupational Therapy’ deviate from this model, please see our website for further information). Theoretically acquired course content can thus be directly deployed by the students to solve company-related problems. The “split-week” model offers great benefits: In addition to the swift entry into the work-force, it offers continuous and intensive inclusion in the operational activities of your partner company. This ensures a close linking of theory and practice.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

For EU applicants (nationals of a member state of the European Union):

- > Proof of university entrance qualification in the student's home country (e.g. High School Diploma, Matura, A-Levels, Bachillerato). They are verified on the basis of 'anabin', a database published by the Ministry of Education and Cultural Affairs of the Federal States of Germany.
- > Proof of required German language proficiency – at C1 level. Applicants can acquire the necessary German language proficiency at a language school, like F+U Academy of Languages (www.fuulanguages.eu). An 8-semester programme with integrated language course during semesters 1 – 2 is in preparation at iba. Scheduled date of implementation: 1st of October 2018. Please contact us for further information or visit us on our website.
- > Work contract ("Praxisvertrag") with partner company (iba assists students in finding a partner company and already maintains a network of more than 1,800 cooperating companies nationwide).

There is no admission limit (Numerus Clausus)

For non-EU applicants and German applicants

Please contact us to get detailed information.

PARTNER COMPANIES THROUGHOUT GERMANY

In the following and on our website you get a really small impression of our network of over 1,800 partner companies. Our academic advisors will be glad to give you an overview of the entire portfolio and current job vacancies within the framework of our dual-study programmes in a personal meeting. We can put you in contact with our cooperating companies, or, of course, you can look for the company of your choice on your own initiative.

FUNDING AND COMPENSATION

Depending on the study programme and location, tuition fees vary between 550 and 595 euros per month and are generally covered by the partner company so students do not bear the costs of the programme. There are no enrolment or examination fees. Furthermore, partner companies generally pay supplementary compensation. The amount is negotiated individually between the student and the partner company.

Differences in funding and compensation at study programmes Physiotherapy/Applied Sciences – Occupational Therapy, please find further information on our website.

ACCREDITATION AND STATE RECOGNITION

All iba undergraduate programmes and degrees are accredited and fully state-recognised. iba Bachelor's degrees are legally equivalent to any other Bachelor's university degree and qualify for challenging professional jobs as well as Master's degrees at any German or international college or university.

INTERESTED?

Please contact us to agree a personal meeting time or visit us at one of our regular information sessions – held in German. There you will get detailed information about studying at iba and you can ask your questions to our academic advisors afterwards. On our website you can find the contact data to your academic advisor.
